CHICAGO, June 4.—The unusual heat wave that has settled over most of the country had killed more than a score. Almost as large a number were dead in storms resulting from the torrid weather.

With prostrations reported in increasing numbers in the areas of large population weather reports held no hope of immediate relief for the section from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic seaboard, while the death toll and mercury mounted under a broiling sun.

Hamilton, Ohio, listed eight dead in the heat wave's most grisly tragedy when Lloyd Russell, temporarily insane, shot and killed that number, including his mother and five small nieces and nephews.

Seven were dead in New York, three in Chicago, two in Detroit, four in New England. Storms in Iowa and around Minneapolis had claimed fourteen more lives.

THREE DIE IN CHICAGO

Little hope for immediate relief from the heat wave that has prevailed since Sunday was in store today. The weather bureau announced the temperature would remain high for the next two days.

The heat was accountable for three deaths in Chicago.

In several sections of the middle-west the heat wave brought violent damaging rains and windstorms of tornado proportions. Many persons were killed in the storm.

"Mechanical Doll" To Be Featured at Odd Fellows Ball Saturday Evening

When the little folk step into a doll shop and see all the wonderful dolls they are dazzled and their hearts beat with joy.

But when one sees Lady Blythe Marvin, Richmond's famous "Mechanical Doll," one stops to think and look and wonder whether she is a human being or a real doll. All that is necessary is to wind her up and she starts working.

Many people have been deceived as to whether or not she is a real live person, and some think she is hypnotized. Far be it from such. Lady Blythe has a wonderful control over nerves, muscle, body and mind to such an extent that the greatest comedians could not even get as much as the blink of an eye, or any other signs of life from her.

As a "Mechanical Doll," Lady Blythe has science baffled as to how she does it. This is a strain on one's system. But Lady Blythe Marvin, Richmond's "Mechanical Doll" will give a performance at East Shore park, at the Odd Fellows grand ball, closing the cornerstone celebration Saturday evening, June 6, at 8:30 o'clock.

PROGRAM COMPLETE

All preparations have been completed for the big celebration here Saturday and the following program has been announced:

3 p. m. Parade from First to Sixteenth street and back to the new building on Tenth street. Order of parade: Municipal band, cantors, grand officers of Rebekahs Assembly, directors of Odd Fellows association, float of Harry Marcus, Inc., Rebekahs, subordinate lodges, encampments.

3:45 p. m. Laying of cornerstone by Grand Master Dunnett Rittenhouse and staff, Grand Secretary U. S. G. Clifford, Grand Chaplain Rev. H. S. Kelly and Grand Treasurer James M. Harris.

6 p. m. Dinner at Roosevelt Junior high school, Ninth and Russell, served by Rebekahs. Address by Hon. Frank McBeth, past grand master of the Odd Fellows.

8:30 p. m. Grand ball at East Shore park. Grand march led by grand officers. Special feature, the Marvin, dance music by the Syncope Six.

TO DECORATE STREETS

Owing to the fact that the erection of the new Odd Fellows building here marks a milestone in the development of the city, and because several hundred visitors from "outside" are expected to be in the city all merchants of Richmond have been requested to put out their flags and decorations Saturday.

Members of the Merchants Association will co-operate and it is hoped that the entire business district will be gaily decorated in holiday appearance.

State Secretary Labor Federation May Address Meet

An invitation has been extended to Paul Starrenberg, secretary of the State Federation of Labor by the Encampment committee of Honor Post, Veterans of Foreign War, to be in Richmond and give an address during the convention here on June 25, 26 and 27.

An invitation has already been sent to General John J. Pershing, Senators Hiram Johnson and Samuel Shortridge, and other very prominent men to be here during the encampment. It is hoped that all these noted men who are foremost in the state and national affairs can find it convenient to be here for the convention.

BERLIN, June 4. A warning to foreign powers to keep out of the Shanghai trouble, and a charge that the whole trouble has assumed its present proportions only because foreign employers tried to smash the strike of Chinese workers with foreign troops and foreign warships, was issued today by M. Wu, Chinese Ambassador to Germany.

The intervention of the foreign powers, he said, would merely promote the "unjustified pretensions of certain powers and would throw new fuel into the flames. He admitted that the movement may be inspired in part from Moscow, but that it is only because the Soviets sympathize with the National Chinese movement calling for the abolition of special privileges of a certain nation.

The "Bolshevization" of Chinese, said Wu, is impossible because the Chinese in the main are small land owners.

STRIKE TROUBLE ONLY

"The right of the workman to lay down his work is acknowledged everywhere," said Wu's statement. "More or less extensive strikes are known in all countries. Nevertheless, certain powers in China which think they can do anything, are fighting against giving the Chinese the same right to strike which other people have."

"This naturally created a certain antagonism in the Chinese population which is strongly national. The Chinese want to enjoy the same rights which are customary among other people. This is the reason why the purely social movement like the strike, originally assumed a national coloring."

"It may be assumed that the movement will lose its sharp edge if left on its original social basis and if foreign powers do not attempt to directly or indirectly give this strike more political character and forbid the Chinese workers to make use of their right to strike."

Pioneer Notch Names Officers

At a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the following officers were chosen to positions in the Shawnee pioneer notch of the First Baptist church: Joe Flores, assistant leader; Lawrence Angell, chief hunter; Edwin Regelia, recorder; Horace Jenkins, treasurer and George Regelia, department ranger.

This is the last meeting of the notch until after the closing of the Pioneer camp on the Russian river. The meetings will be resumed on June 23.

94 Graduate at Richmond High School Program Held Last Night

Ninety-four Richmond high school boys and girls marched across the platform of the Roosevelt auditorium last night clad in cap and gown to receive their respective sheepskins that entitled them to go on to college or to enter the social and business world as full fledged high school graduates. 'Twas a momentous occasion in the lives of these chosen few who had worked through four strenuous years with this gala evening in mind. Twenty-four of the students who had worked most faithfully were the recipients of class honors.

Professor Raymond G. Gettell gave the commencement address, which was very well received by the students and by the audience as a whole. Four musical numbers by the high school orchestra and individual members rounded out the program. Mr. B. N. Tucker presented the class.

MYSTERY SEEN AS GIRLS FAINT IN CLASS ROOM

Strange Woman Gives Pacific
Grove School Girl Bottle of
"Perfume" Believed Poison

FUMES CREATE SCHOOL PANIC

Bottle Sent to University of California Laboratory at Berkeley for Examination

(By Universal Service)

PACIFIC GROVE, June 4.—Six girls were mysteriously overcome in the classroom in the grammar school of this city this morning when Edna Davidson, 14 year old, uncorked a bottle supposed to be perfume which she said had been given to her by a strange woman. The girls swooned when Miss Davidson began playfully to dash the liquid about on classmates sitting at desks close to her own. As the fumes of the perfume spread, girls in the class became panicky and a wild rush was made for the doorway to the hall.

Principal Robert H. Down rushed to the classroom and assisted in carrying the girls to his office where physicians and police were called. As only several drops of the liquid remained in the bottle it was impossible to tell what it contained. The bottle has been sent to the University of California laboratory at Berkeley for analysis.

FROM STRANGE WOMAN

Edna Davidson told the authorities that the bottle was given her by a strange woman, whom she said, she first met on the beach here on Memorial Day. This morning, she said, she met the woman again in front of a house near the school and the woman passed her the bottle, saying that it contained perfume, and that she was leaving today for San Francisco and thence to China. She wanted to make Miss Davidson a present. City and county police are now trying to trace the mysterious woman.

The six girls overcome are Evelyn Spottswood, 14 year old, Odella Slinger, 15 year, Edna Davidson, 14 years, Dorothy Edmonds, 15 years, Theodore Gross, 14 years and Rosalind Kimball, 14 years.

All six girls have recovered this afternoon although Miss Gross, daughter of a prominent business man here and Miss Kimball, are under the care of physicians.

GROW TO REPAIR HOME

City Building Inspector E. E. Grow will do $250 worth of repair work on his home at 318 Fourteenth street in the near future as the result of a recent fire in his residence. He will rebuild the roof of his home and reline the interior.

George Knight FACES STOLEN GOODS CHARGE

George E. Knight, local newspaper agent, was arrested last night by Richmond police on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He was released on $1000 bail.

The police reported Knight has been buying stolen tires from the band of juvenile automobile accessory thieves who have been operating here for the past few months. The six youthful thieves, who range from 10 to 16 years of age, who were arrested yesterday morning, are believed by police to be the ring leaders of the band.

Recently the police have succeeded in linking the youngsters with the numerous cases of stripping the spare tires from machines that have been reported. Police stated last night, a dozen more youths will be implicated in the thefts before the investigation is completed.

Although the youths will be dealt with by the juvenile authorities, they have been allowed to remain in their homes. It was learned that some of the stolen tires were used by the juveniles themselves, while others were sold to Knight.

IN THE NAME OF GOD

We believe that there is a depth of futility in quarrels over creeds. Stout-hearted men are battling—fortunately with words instead of swords—over matters of such tiny significance in the vast world of the heart, soul and intellect that they exasperate the devout and injure the cause of religion. Just now the commissions of the church organizations and the state of Tennessee are the battlefields.

Where the church and the school each has a clear function, each should get along well in its proper field. But in Tennessee the church, as represented by a body politic not famous for liberality and intelligence, has invaded the school with a peremptory order, the sagacity of which is lacking in the sight of most of the rest of the world. And in some of the church organizations, the fight has been taken up, so that now we read in headlines of the threatened schism in one of the finest of the old denominations.

It seems to us that this quarrel might be settled easily by a general truce, the terms of which include recognition of the name of God. All Christians so denominate the Supreme Being. Some Christians, however, insist upon an imagery that is worthy of cultism and occultism in their most flourishing states. Science with its apparently grim and cold eyes fixed on realism, uses the name of God but little, but it does not deny that name. It often reaches the solution of an effusion by the use of a symbol and in reading, that symbol is called "Infinity" and is not used with salaams.

But in his heart, the scientist looks for something whose meaning he cannot discover in his formulae. Not being expressive in a religious way, he completes his equation by the use of that symbol for Infinity.

But there is another approach by which science reaches God. We have had quite a bit of commerce with men of science, and have found them all reverent men. When one can look upon the universe as the astronomer looks upon it, the Natural God can be seen too big to be brought into any ecclesiastical school. Even if God could not be discerned in the shining of a distant star or in the tremulous glow of a galaxy far removed from ours, His law must surely be discoverable in the ordered universe.

It is no theory of mathematicians that the universe is of such and such dimensions. Stellar distances are known with an accuracy that is all human machinery can measure. They are awfully big.

In the beginning of man's recorded passage upward (and even the most fundamental of the fundamentalists will not deny his accession to higher stages) he fashioned for his adoration a little idol. As his mind expanded, he built with more regard for vastness until some of the images he erected for his worship were tremendous works both in size and in artistry. The conception of God grew from that of a personal deity, a tribal guardian filled with man-like emotions such as vengeance and ambition to a God of omnipotence, omniscience and omnipresence. It is to that God we now turn with such reverence as our infinitesimal worldly affairs allow us.

We see in this discussion the frequent reference to dimensions, whether alluding to those of Deity or of the universe. In the final analysis, science and religion are groping for the same thing, one with the intellect foremost and the other through the agencies of the heart. Their only dispute is one over terminology.

The fundamentalist could find his most plausible support in science. And science, balked by the inadequate measuring stick which purely material devices provide for him, cannot but turn to religion and the religious concept, for the factor to complete his equation.

That factor, is Infinity, All-in-All—God.

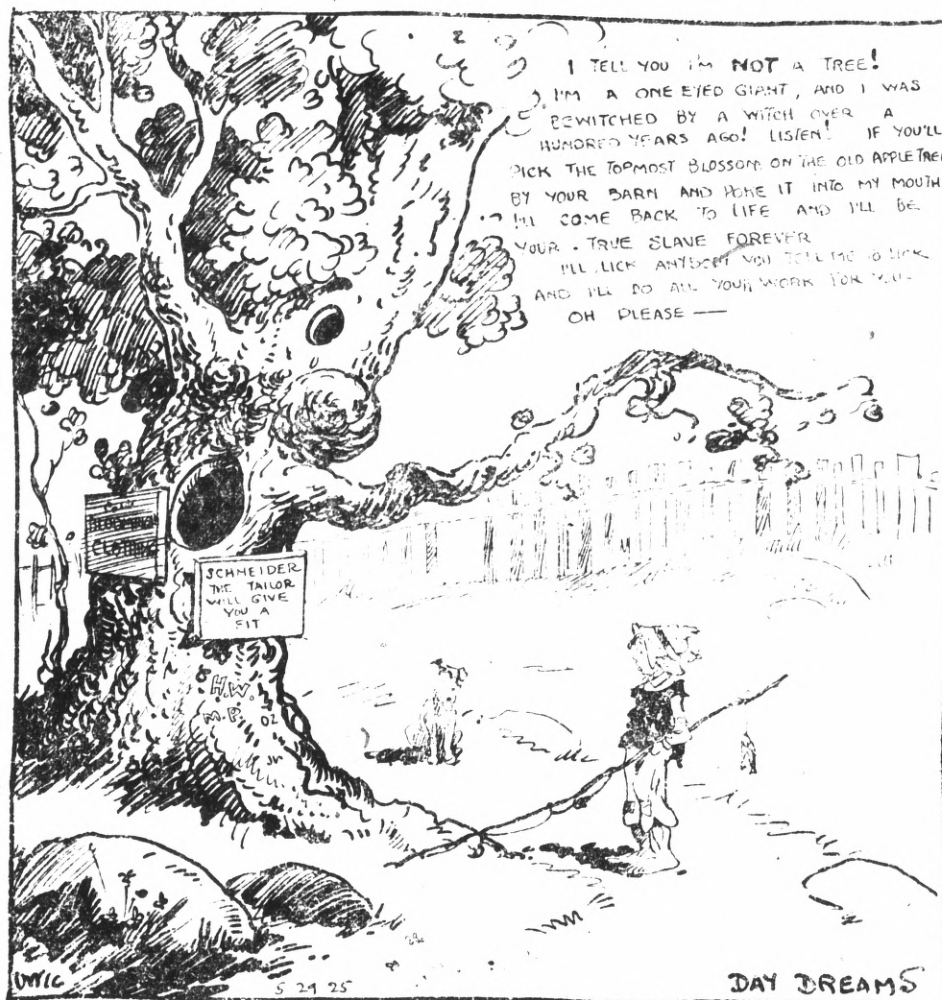

BUSINESS CONDITIONS SOUND

An encouraging report on basic business conditions has been made by members of the American Banker's Association.

Without attempting to overlook retarded activity in some lines, the bankers point out that no reason or prospect exists for any serious impairment of industry.

"The wave" of optimism which swept over the country has been followed by a more conservative outlook," says the Indianapolis Star, "which should ultimately be better for all concerned. Political uncertainty, due to fear that radical blocs in Congress might interfere with the President's program of tax and railroad legislation, may have caused some lessening of industrial activity. The nation's financial leaders are a unit, however, in predicting that the condition of fundamental soundness must react in the form of quickened business."

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

DRESS By MARY MARSHALL

Fur is Used More Lavishly on the Hem Than the Collars of the New Coats.

THIS year women wear their fur around their ankles instead of around their necks. Fashion, so decrees and women follow the decree, even though sometimes they do not find it so becoming. The little coat of silk or light weight cloth with wide band of fur around the hem has had very wide appeal in this country. It is the kind of woman who has in mind when we talk about "what everyone is wearing."

The fact remains, however, that nothing gives so becoming a finish to the neck of a woman's coat as the fur. The beauty-enhancing powers of fur were discovered some time very early in human evolution. So although the fashion of the moment calls for the width of the fur to be around the ankles, we know in our hearts that these coats would be more becoming if there were fur around the neck as well. Some women have brought fur scarfs to match the fur on the hem of the coat, but the difficulty in getting an exact match has prevented others from doing this. So they solve their difficulty with the aid of a silk scarf or a pearl choker.

While the fashion for the coat with fur hem has called for quantities of peltry, it is not a fashion that has been popular with the furrier. Often the wide band is of rather cheap or inexpensive fur. Women will content themselves with fur cheaper than when they wear it around their necks than when they wear it around the neck. Only among the very highest class trade has there been any demand for the expensive fur neck piece.

Some of the stores' most, in fact have sold literally millions of fur handkerchiefs this spring. A surprisingly large number of women have sought to make last season's coat up to date by adding a band of fur about the hem.

WISE AND OTHERWISE By MARY MARSHALL

To certain persons the fad for mannish apparel seems all wrong. There are men as well as women who are rebuked very much the wrong way by any tendency on the part of women to ape the fashions of their brothers and husbands. Some women dislike it, too. Those who dislike it say that as a fashion it is done for. But those who like it are in no hurry to see it go. A woman does not lose her charm, they say, when she wears the same fashions that men use or when her clothes are cut on somewhat the same line. She only adds to her feminine charm—only makes her femininity seem all the more an apparent contrast with her mannish attire.

Some young women like to buy it least part of their wardrobes in the shops that deal in men's clothes. They like to think their suits are made of real "man's serge" or "man's tweed," and they like to wear real men's neckwear instead of the mannish sort made especially for women.

Now it may interest the young woman who goes in for real men's things and is not content with that which is merely mannish, to know that there is a new color that is rapidly becoming quite the smartest thing in man's attire. This is plum color—a subdued sort of plum color that is in excellent taste.

You may be aware of the fact that powder blue, having enjoyed a vogue with women some time before, was the smart favorite a year ago. The Prince of Wales favored this color. It may be of interest also to know that the Prince of Wales has set the fashion among fashionable young men for wearing what are known as "Glenurquhart checks"—which may be had in black and white, gray and white and other shades. These are worn correctly only for country."

WHERE IT STARTED

TRUE BLUE

This term originated in 1892. A certain Mr. Scott invented a blue dye which never ran; it made him his fortune and got him the name of "True Blue Scott." The term came to mean consistency or loyalty under adversity.

Kidneys need flushing just as the bowels do.

Don't think that back pains mean serious kidney trouble. Or scant, highly-colored urine. Or frequent urination.

Try flushing the kidneys. Do what you would do if the bowels were clogged. Relieve them.

The pity is that people don't realize that the kidneys and bowels both eliminate wastes and poisons. And both become clogged. They relieve the bowels, but they let the kidneys go.

Flush the kidneys—relieve them. Do this by drinking plenty of water. Drink the first glass before breakfast. Add a little Jad Salts. That makes a fair pleasant, effervescent drink.

Watch the quick results. In one hour poisons are eliminated. The cramping is relieved. Conditions are entirely changed.

Jad Salts is made from the acids of lemon and grape juice combined with lithia. They are made to relieve the kidneys in a quick efficient way.

Try them once. Then whenever you feel that the kidneys need flushing, you will know the way to quick relief. And a better way has never yet been found.

The Bread and Butter Wife by Violet Dare

WHOS WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE has been in the city as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel after spending with TOM PORTER, her first and only year, who resents her working even though she does it in order that he may live more comfortably.

SALLY'S first impulse was to hang herself on the hotel and cry, but determined she would not let the tears from her eyes and the

By morning she was a little more composed, but her color, as she told the hotel manager, that she was giving up her job, that she was leaving the hotel, was gone. She didn't know whether that she was going to become a public stenographer, what would happen to her if he had chosen his name or if he had engaged someone else.

She couldn't telephone his room before noon, he always left orders not to be disturbed until then. Discreetly she tried to occupy her time until then, to quell the sinking sensation in her heart.

"Babette," she heard, "she started hesitating, feeling that the whole world must know her secret, must know that it was Babette's infatuation, not her own competence, that had kept her there."

"Leaving?" In Babette's tone was mingled surprise and admiration. "What for?" Well, if you're not the luckiest girl."

"Lucky?" Oh, you don't understand. But you've been so good to me, won't you help me now? I've got to find a place to live, just a room somewhere. I'll have to move today."

"That's easy. There are lots of places. I'll go with you at noon."

Sally packed up the few belongings in her desk, cleaned the typewriter keys, and finally found with a breath of relief that it was late enough to call Mr. Grayville. When his cheery voice answered, "Time of course, I want you to start work for me right away," she felt as though a great weight had been taken from her shoulders. The world began to look brighter again.

With Babette as her guide she went later up and down the side streets, finding upstairs and looking for a one-dining room after another. Each time rejecting what was offered because she felt she could not afford it. But finally she found a little room tucked under the eaves of an old frame building that she could have cheap. She shrugged.

Club Mendelssohn Closes Season at Luncheon Social

The Club Mendelssohn had a final winding up of business for the club year and a general social time at a luncheon served at the First Methodist church at Point Richmond yesterday at 1 o'clock. During the business meeting, over which Mrs. C. H. Clark, out-going president, presided, two new officers were elected. They were club hostess and club correspondent. These offices will be filled by Mrs. L. L. Owens and Mrs. R. H. Clark, respectively.

Mrs. James Stewart, who was recently elected vice-president of the club, has resigned, and her position was filled yesterday the election of Mrs. Myrtle Smith.

Mrs. E. T. Parker, is the new president, and the other new officers are Mrs. B. W. Brothers, recording secretary; Mrs. E. George Harlow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph Mythen treasurer; Mrs. Billy Brown, parliamentarian.

In appreciation of her work for the past year, Mrs. Clark was presented by the club with one dozen handsome Madiera luncheon napkins. She also received many beautiful flowers, and other gifts. Mrs. Clark in turn, presented each of the officers and committeewomen who served with her, with lovely gifts. These officers and committeewomen also received a gift from the club.

The table decorations were carried out in a most original and unique way. They were covered with "calendar" decorations—each table to represent a month of the year. The hostess at the tables each put on a humorous stunt much to the enjoyment of the members present.

Mrs. H. E. Hammond, who with Mrs. J. O. Ford was general chairman of the day, featured the program with a humorous poem.

The table hostesses were Mesdames E. T. Parker, J. C. Eaton, B. W. Brothers, J. P. Smith, J. O. Redman John Griffin, Misses Margaret Carey, Blossom Griffin, Mildred Fraser, and Bernice Mills.

The meetings of the club will be resumed on August 13, with the new officers in charge.

ORDER OF MOOSE TO VISIT MARTINEZ

There will be no meeting of the Richmond lodge, No. 56, Loyal order of Moose, in Richmond on next Thursday evening. It was announced after the meeting held in Moose hall last night and presided over by William Vossbeck, dictator. The reason for this is that most of the members are journeying to Martinez where a big class initiation and the conferring of the third degree will be held.

The next time the local lodge will convene will be on Thursday evening, June 18. It is hoped that at that time every member of the organization will be on hand, as numerous matters of extremely important business are to be brought before the meeting.

What gasoline would you use?

If you were a professional racing driver, to whom the winning of first, second or third place in every important speedway event meant thousands of dollars in cold cash—to whom the qualities of mileage and power in your gasoline and oil were as essential as the perfection of your motor—would you take a chance on any but the finest?

Professional drivers know different gasoline and oils by actual test! Any gasoline the world over can claim certain qualities of "Mileage and Power", but these men demand absolute proof! Racing is their business—their livelihood—and with the choice of every gasoline marketed, the world's greatest drivers pick RICHFIELD.

Peter De Paolis, winner of the great Indianapolis 500 mile Classic last Saturday, established a new world's record with his remarkable time of 4 hrs., 56 min., 39.47 sec., averaging 101.13 miles per hour, making Richfield's fifth consecutive victory for the great Indianapolis Classic in the past five years—a record never equalled by any other gasoline in the world.

The first six drivers to finish Saturday were all exclusive users of Richfield Gasoline, and out of the first eight, seven had chosen Richfield as their fuel for this supreme 500 mile test. In the past two years every A.A.A. National Championship race has been won by an exclusive user of Richfield Gasoline—a wonderful tribute in itself—and in almost every race a new world's record has been established!

Every Westerner has a right to be proud of this California gasoline—its wonderful records! Made by special process by a California company from California crudes—it is proving its wonderful mileage and power superiority by an unbroken string of speedway victories and steadily increasing sales of thousands of gallons every month! Try it in your car—note the difference.

FIELDING IS FEATURE OF S.O. BATTLE

STANDARD OIL LEAGUE

Snappy fielding featured the game in the Standard Oil league at First street last night when the Refinery club humbled the All Standards by a score of 4 to 2. Sensational, breath-taking, running catches were spared out of thin atmosphere by the speedy gardeners. In the face of the gale that swept across the park and tossed the high fliers higher and yon, the absolute lack of errors on the part of the fielders was surprising.

The home run a day seems to be quite a habit with the Standard Oil boys. Hardly a game has passed when the right field fence has prevented the fielder from catching the ball. Gillispie was the hero yesterday. It was in the first inning, and he slapped one of Dimock's straight fast ones for one of the most beautiful homers seen this year at First street.

Both Dimock, who pitched for the winners, and Buttisch for the losers, heaves an excellent brand of ball. Dimock allowed four runs, one walk, fanned one, and made 5 assists. Buttisch walked 2, whiffed 8, and allowed 5 clouds.

The game was fast and furious the entire time, with the issue in doubt until Cullers grounded out in the seventh, ending the game after an hour and 20 minutes of fast play, as the following will indicate:

FIRST INNING

Refinery Zimmerman walked, Bartram sacrificed Zimmerman to second, the latter going to third on the throw to first. Zimmerman scored on Gillispie's error. Snively struck out. Chatfield did likewise. One run, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING

THIRD INNING

Refinery Dimock fanned, Zimmerman hit to center field, and stole second. Bartram walked. Snively safe at first on Thorsen's error. Walfram going to third and Bartram second. Chatfield struck out. Zimmerman, Bartram, and Snively scored when Walfram crashed a three bagger out to the score board in center. Muth thrown out at first. Buttisch to Gillispie. Three runs, two hits, one error.

FOURTH INNING

FIFTH INNING

Refinery Zimmerman out at first. Thorsen to Gillispie. Bartram smacked a double to right field. Snively out at first. Gillispie unassisted. Bartram going to third. Chatfield fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

Refinery Walfram popped a foul to Gillispie. Muth flied out to Huzeka. Cullers caught Duncan's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Refinery Zimmerman flied out to Chatfield. Cullers out at first. Dimock to Chatfield. Gillispie goes exactly the same route. Schulte popped to Snively. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Scalps

That itch—that scale

You know it is germ trouble. Then destroy the germs.

Sulphur does that. We scientists never hope to find a method better. But we have found ways to give that sulphur multiplied effect.

The new-day way is Menthos-Sulphur. Rub in into the scalp where scale occurs or itching. Note how quickly all the trouble disappears.

Dandruff and scale destroy the hair. Keep the scalp clean and the hair will be healthy. End at once, in the best way known, the parasites and scale.

Ask your druggist for a jar of Rowles Menthos-Sulphur. The first time you apply it you will know it is doing all that must be done. You do yourself injustice if you don't.

55 BUILDINGS STARTED HERE IN PAST MONTH

Fifty-five new buildings were started in Richmond during May, an increase of more than 10 per cent over the same month a year ago, according to report on applications for new water connections made public yesterday by the East Bay Water Company.

Last month was one of the busiest for home building in the history of the city, the report shows. April set a new record with fifty-three new structures started but May exceeded this number. But forty-six buildings were started during May last year.

Richmond's growth was reflected in the general expansion of the East Bay district as a total of 924 new buildings were started during May throughout the East Bay, which is an increase of more than 12 per cent over the same month a year ago.

At Wesley Church

"We'll make a fighter out of you yet," remarked Director Robert Elmslinger to Earle Williams after a particular good scuffle in "Fortune's Mask," the picture of Central America, which will be shown at the Wesley Methodist church, Ninth and Nevin, tonight at 7:15.

"What do you mean, yet?" growled Williams. "I'll say I am already, look here."

He showed four Knuckles of his right hand red and scraped. Williams had just finished endeavoring to annihilate part of the Mexican army which had been detailed to take him out before a wall and shoot him at noon.

As a boy Earle Williams was one of the fastest sprinters on the Pacific Coast. It is said that some of his marks were close to records. Beneath the graceful clad exterior which is familiar to picture fans, Williams carries a fine athletic physique.

SMALL LEAKS in your income—unnecessary expenditure—rob you of the comforts that are enjoyed by thrifty folks. Measure your expenses by your actual needs rather than by your desires. Guard against these drains upon the pocketbook that bring you no substantial gain and retard your progress toward financial independence.

Mend these leaks with our new systematic plan of Saving, the Mercantile Self-Regulating Account.

TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME

Oakland, Calif.
April 23, 1925
For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case "Tuberculosis." My spirit was examined and showed the tubercular germ. As I found no improvement from any of the treatments that I took, I decided to give the FONG WAN HERB a test, as a last resort.

After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was a well woman and had gained in weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERB on April 16, 1924, but today, I am still well and have no sign of my former complaints.

District Attorney
Sues to Collect
On Forfeited Bond

MARTINEZ, June 4.—(Special)—A. B. Tinning on Thursday instituted suit in the Superior Court here against R. Schmidt and Floyd Grace to enforce collection on a $2000 ball bond which they furnished to secure the appearance of Alfred Schmidt, San Pablo garage man, son of one of the defendants, for trial on a statutory charge in which Lola Thompson, a sixteen year old girl was involved.
Schmidt appeared for trial on last February 24th at which time the girl gave damaging testimony against him. The trial was continued until the following morning at 10 o'clock but Schmidt failed to appear, nor has he been seen or heard of since. Schmidt's bond was ordered forfeited but according to the complaint filed in the case, the amount has never been paid. Schmidt was a married man and father of two children. Following his disappearance his wife secured a divorce from him.
